Dear Caitriona,

Many thanks for your prompt reply and the explanations provided.

I note your comments that CRR would not have an oversight/involvement with planning but instead examine the project drawings from a safety perspective.

I note you mention that CRR would have reviewed various drawings including the General Arrangement drawings.

You might confirm that the same General Arrangement drawings that I sent you on the 10th September last (attached again herein) are the same General Arrangement drawings that CRR reviewed.

I assume that in reviewing the superstructure drawings that CRR from a safety point were satisfied that the cycle lanes of 1.5 and footpaths of 1.8 are sufficient and that on final inspection by CRR you will ensure these measurements are complied with and you might confirm my understanding in this regard is correct.

Yours sincerely,

Martin Power
